Persons mailing Christmas parcels to the forces this year should as far as possible cut down on the weight and size of packages to help facilitate the provision of shipping space.

The maximum weight of parcels has been set at 11 pounds, but if the weight is voluntarily reduced below that by the senders the post office would be able to forward the maximum number of gifts on each ship and make deliveries in time for all, provided they are mailed not later than November 1st.

Evidently the man who now heads the CBC ought not to be held responsible for at least some of the programs which radio listeners are privileged to hear. His appointment may have been with a view to giving respectability, but it is not fair. Here in Nova Scotia the people have had a chance to know Dr. Thompson as a man of culture and ability, and they find it hard to believe that he would countenance many of the programs that come over the air. Nominally the CBC belongs to the people of Canada, and it might certainly render a far greater service than it is now doing. It must be that much of what is heard cannot fail to have a beneficial influence, especially upon youthful hearers.—Observer in Wolfville Acadian.

A number of places in this province have held successful flower shows this season. Wolfville is noted for its beautiful gardens and excellent gardeners. No other town is better qualified to put on a creditable show, and yet no move in that direction has recently been made. It may be too late for this year, but the idea is one that might well be kept in mind. Our town never does things by halves, and there is surely no less of enterprise than in other days.—The Acadian, Wolfville, N.S.

Constable Simpson, formerly of the Blaimore RCMP detachment, suffered bruises on Thursday evening of last week when his car took the ditch west of Picture Butte. He steered his car into the ditch to avoid hitting a Japanese cyclist, and it turned over. Dick O'Brien, in the constable's car, suffered a leg fracture.

WHY NOT PINCHER CREEK?

We note that a new frigate for the Canadian Navy was launched on Friday at Montreal, which was named "HMCS Stettler," honoring the town of Stettler which, in the Fourth Victory Loan drive, passed its objective in the first day.

Someone should tell Hon. Angus Macdonald, Navy minister, about Pincher Creek, which, to our way of thinking, has the greatest loan organization in Canada. In the Third Loan, Pincher Creek, with a quota of $75,000, had subscribed the full amount before the opening gun, and went on to more than double the amount. The result was that, in the Fourth Loan, Pincher Creek was given an objective of $185,000—an increase of more than 140 per cent. Yet Pincher Creek subscribed $150,000 in the first day and was over the top within three days.

We think the naming of a frigate "HMCS Pincher Creek" would be quite in order, and if it fights like Pincher Creek people put over war loan drives it would be a navy in itself.—Lethbridge Herald.

EXTEND TREASURY BRANCH SERVICES

Hon. Solon Low, provincial treasurer, announces that expanded services of treasury branches under the new set-up announced recently will include administration of estates and other services for which hitherto the people have been dependent upon the private trust companies and similar institutions.

In future every treasury branch will operate as a local office for various services which previously have been available only through the central government offices, he added. These will include government fire and life insurance, the issue of permits and licenses, and information services provided by the department.

FAMINE STALKS ITALIAN AREAS

The spectre of famine hangs over Rome and the Nazi-occupied cities of Northern Italy. Nazi authorities in Rome have broadcast a proclamation, telling the Italian people that "after the tresson of Badoglio and the rupture of the treaty of alliance between the Reich and Italy, the German military have taken Italian territory under their protection."

The proclamation admitted that resistance had occurred, even in Rome, to German occupation, but declared that order now had been restored. It ordered all persons to deliver their firearms to German authorities by September 15th or be shot.

A Swiss telegraphic agency reported that Nazi parachute troops had taken up positions in St. Peter's Square, and added that the fate of Pope Pius and that of other high church prelates who had taken refuge in Vatican City, was at present unknown.

Diminishing food supplies were reported throughout the north, where the Germans had requisitioned all available supplies.

Induction of Rev. G. A. Kettly into the pastorate of St. Paul's United church at Coleman took place on the evening of Friday, September 3rd, with services in charge of Rev. E. B. The congregation was then introduced to their new pastor and Mrs. Kettly.

Mrs. Snad, an oldtimer of this district, passed away in an Edmonton hospital on Tuesday following an operation. The remains were brought back to Coleman, where interment will take place on Saturday morning. Her husband formerly conducted dry goods businesses at Fernie, Bellevue, Blaimore and Coleman, and predeceased her in 1941. She is survived by two sons, Joseph and Ronald, and one daughter, Margaret.

Major Charles Watt, formerly stationed at Coleman, now Red Shield supervisor at Currie Barracks, Calgary, will be at the new Salvation Army Citadel, Coleman, on Sunday next, September 19th, to speak at 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m. In addition to this he will address a youth rally at 3 p.m. Everyone welcome. Major Watt is very well known throughout this district, and no doubt will attract good crowds.

Crows' Nest Chapter of the IOOE require the names, reg.mental numbers and units of all the Blaimore boys and girls serving overseas, in connection with their activity in sending out Christmas parcels. They ask that relatives of those serving overseas kindly hand in this information to Mrs. G. Maniquet, secretary, before October 15th, and to remember the earlier this is done the better.

A large audience attended the official opening of the new Salvation Army Citadel at Coleman on Friday evening. The structure was declared open to the public by Mayor Ansbush, who stressed the excellent work of the Salvation Army during war and in peace. Members of the town council, United and Anglican church clergymen and Salvation Army officers, including Colonel and Mrs. Urskai, of Edmonton, were present. Lieut. S. Nahrney is in charge of the new Citadel.

BURGMAN—CRUCKSHANK

The home of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Cruckshank at Hillcrest was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday, September 11th, when their only daughter, Muriel Jean, became the bride of Captain Robert Burnett Burghman, CDC, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Burghman, of Melville, Sask.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Irwin before a mantel banked with fern, gladioli and pink carnations. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Irwin.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white sheer, fashioned with tight bodice and trimmed with lace and small buttons. She carried a bouquet of pink gladioli. Her chapel veil was arranged in halo style with orange blossoms. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, the gift of the groom.

A reception followed the ceremony after which a buffet luncheon was served. The table was artistically decorated with pink carnations and pink tapers, and centred with the wedding cake. Mrs. A. B. Burghman, mother of the groom, presided at the table.

Following the reception, Captain and Mrs. Burghman left by motor for a honeymoon in the mountains, after which they will reside in Clarendon. For travelling the bride wore a tailored suit of dark brown gabardine with hat to match, and reptile shoes and bag, and a corsage of gardenia. Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Burghman, of Melville; F. Skasky; Mrs. R. A. Cruckshank, of Estevan, Alta.; and Miss M. E. Armstrong, of Calgary.

However intense our feeling with regard to responsibility for this war, it is far nobler, and far more the part of the patriot, to remember constantly the high purposes for which we entered the war, to refuse to join in wild words of bitterness and hate, and to keep our minds clear from those base passions of war, above all others, has tended to awaken.—Our Dumb Animals' President.

A fire that no doubt started from a cigarette butt spread rapidly from the Beard's Camp trail about a mile south of Blaimore on Friday last and for a time looked as though it would raze much of the beautiful new growth of timber in that district. However, Forest Ranger Boulton and staff, together with the RCMP, were soon on the scene and with all the men that could be mustered were soon in control. By Sunday morning all had been quenched.

In a letter received recently by Mr. and Mrs. C. Draper, of Cranbrook, from their son Bill in England, was a clipping from an English paper that is published once a week. The item was headed "B.G. The paper in which the item appeared is printed especially for Canadian fellows who are away from home and who most certainly like nothing more than getting news of their home town.

A guessing contest of a jar of jam was won by Mrs. Edward Percevault and Wilfred Fortier. Proceeds amounted to $26.55.

The regular monthly meeting of the local Red Cross branch was held at the home of Mrs. Archie Swart on Thursday afternoon. On motion of the meeting it was decided to purchase $65 worth of wool to knit into long-sleeve sweaters for soldiers. Other minor items of interest were discussed. Mrs. Swart and Mrs. Frank Webber supplied refreshments. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Littleton on Thursday afternoon, October 21st.

Christmas boxes will have a much longer distance to travel, entailing more handling and reshipment to reach many members of Canada's fighting services this year. To enable all the Dominion's men and women overseas to receive their gifts from home in time for Christmas Day, the post-master-general calls on the public to mail early, not later than November 1st. This date is ten days earlier than last year's closing time, but with many serving in the Mediterranean area, the deadline has been advanced to meet the rapidly changing conditions.

CO-OPERATION PROPER

In an exchange of notes concluded last November, Canada and the United States expressed their desire to continue in the post-war world their wartime co-operation thusly:

"Our governments have in large measure similar interests in post-war international economic policy... They will seek to furnish to the world concrete evidence of the ways in which two neighboring countries that have a long experience of friendly relations... may promote by agreed action their mutual interests to the benefit of themselves and other countries."

In the fields of defence, economics and war production, Canada and the United States have joined forces through various committees. Canada is also a member of the combined production and resources board with Great Britain and the United States.

CHANGES IN THE INTERIM PROGRAMME

To remove certain misunderstandings which seem to have arisen in regard to the recent revision of the Alberta treasury branch interim programme, now entering a new phase of development, the attention of the Alberta people is directed to the following facts:

Distinction between Alberta trademarked goods and other goods will cease;

The 5 per cent bonus on Alberta trademarked goods is hereby eliminated. After September 15th, the consumers' bonus will be paid at the flat rate of 2 per cent on all classes of goods purchased with transfer vouchers by consumers from retail merchants. The maximum purchases upon which bonus will be paid during a month in any one account will be limited to $100.

Trade claims and trade claim control board are to be discontinued;

All restrictions on the withdrawal of funds are eliminated. Any type of account, except term savings, may be drawn upon to its full extent by means of cash orders and/or transfer vouchers;

The use of non-negotiable transfer vouchers will not be changed. These will not entitle the holder to legal tender or currency, but must be deposited as at present. Accounts will consist of a single balance and will be built up by means of deposits of transfer vouchers, cheques, cash orders, cash, etc. If desired, cash may be withdrawn from the account regardless of the nature of the deposit made.

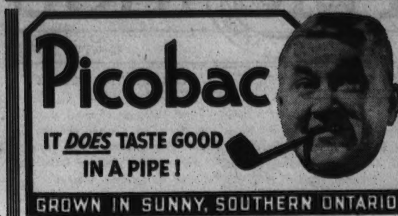

These are the main revisions in the interim programme as they affect the public. It was felt that they will be welcomed both by the public and by the personnel of the treasury branch system. They are the first step toward simplifying the routine and procedure of the interim programme, with a consequent cutting in administration costs.—Provincial Treasurer.

Importance Of Geography

THE STUDY OF GEOGRAPHY has gained new importance as modern developments in communication have brought distant parts of the world into closer and closer contact. In the past, many facts concerning the geography of foreign lands were of little interest to the average person, but it is now generally those that there are no longer any remote parts of the world, and that events in what once may have seemed to us a far-off place, may deeply affect the course of the lives of us who live in Canada. Cities, mountains and rivers in distant countries, which were once only names to us, are now as familiar as those of our own country. Canadians, many of them from the West, have fought in the shadow of Mount Elbrus. We have followed the fortunes of the gallant Russian Army across the wide stretches of that country and the names of their cities, villages and rivers are well known to us, as are many islands in the Pacific which were once unknown dots on the map.

Germans Planned Global Warfare

We are told that German strategy, which was so successful at the beginning of the war, was planned with the help of clever Germans who had made intensive studies of the geography of the world. This close association of geography with military strategy was believed to be new, and it was thought that it would contribute to the annexation by Germany of all the vital places and resources necessary for world domination. The detection of the German armies in Africa, and the inability of the Axis to multiply British sea power, marked the beginning of the failure of this venture into the field of geopolitics, but there is still much to interest us in the realm of global warfare, and in the close association of the study of geography with our well-being now and in the future.

The Geography Of Canada

The people of Canada have been told on many occasions that they fall to fully appreciate the great potentialities of their own country. Canadian geographers point out that there are vast resources here still to be developed, and that Canada could have much greater agricultural and industrial expansion than is at present being undertaken. Alberta, we are told, has greater coal resources than those of Germany and Poland, where a great industrial development is maintained by coal production. There is the possibility for a similar industrial development in the Canadian West, where its coal supplies to be fully utilized. There are also great areas in the North, relatively unpopulated and undeveloped, where farm lands, water, and water power are available. The opening up of all these resources is linked with the question of immigration and there are many problems involved, but it is clear that a close study of the geography of our country might open up many interesting possibilities, worthy of consideration.

Double This All-Brin Recipe Double Your Muffin Delight

The old, favorite muffin recipe is the familiar one—but you can turn the batter into a mold and have All-Brin Bread instead! Spread your slices with butter, jam, cheese. Then you have something different to pep up wartime meals. Good for in-between snacks, too. Better still, why not double this recipe and enjoy both?

ALL-BRIN MUFFIN BREAD

2 tablespoons shortening	1/4 cup milk
1/4 cup molasses	1 1/2 cups flour
1 egg	1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup All-Brin	2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder

Blend shortening and molasses. Add egg and beat well. Stir in All-Brin and milk. Let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Sift flour, salt and baking powder together; add to first mixture and stir just until liquid and dry ingredients are combined. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full and bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 25 minutes; or turn batter into greased loaf pan and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 45 minutes.

Yield: 10 muffins (2-inch diameter) or, 1 loaf (9 1/2 x 4 1/2 x 3-inch pan).

Do you know there are two delicious uses for your All-Brin muffin batter? The old, favorite muffin recipe is the familiar one—but you can turn the batter into a mold and have All-Brin Bread instead! Spread your slices with butter, jam, cheese. Then you have something different to pep up wartime meals. Good for in-between snacks, too. Better still, why not double this recipe and enjoy both?

I FOUND A "BETTER WAY" TO CORRECT MY CONSTIPATION!

War means harder work for most of us. It's certainly no time to be handicapped by that common type of constipation caused by lack of "bulk" in the diet. If you have that trouble, here's a simple, enjoyable method that so many people use to correct the cause—they eat ALL-BRIN regularly instead of resorting to harsh purgatives that give only temporary relief.

This delicious cereal—it's grand tasting in muffins, too—keeps thousands regular, naturally. . . . stop their trouble, "before it starts." Try this pleasant plan. Eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRIN every day . . . drink plenty of water . . . and see why it's called a "better way". Your favorite grocer has ALL-BRIN in two convenient sizes. Your Boys And Girls On Active Service

(By Ottawa Observer)

THE female of the species of the armed forces had their innings last week with the CWACs being honored on the second anniversary and the Wrens (Navy) celebrating their first birthday. Thousands of people in Ottawa on Sunday, August 29, watched Vice-Admiral Percy Neelies take the salute under the Peace Tower on Parliament Hill as smart platoons of Wrens and officers marched past in review. The khaki-clad CWACs are now well over 12,000 strong and the girls from all over Canada are doing a swell job in this war effort. Do you know that your soldier lads in the Aleutians are approximately on the same parallel of latitude as Saskatoon, Sask., and Berlin in Nasty Land, seven hours behind our time in Ottawa. They might as well have been a hundred hours behind the Japs at Alaska, who wouldn't stay and fight, untrue to their "honorable" tradition.

What a family record is this for mother Mrs. William Culligan, of Waterloo, Ont., with five girls and a son on the fighting front. There is L.A. Olive at Calgary, Alta.; L.A. Ruby at Rivers, Man.; L.A. Carol at Trenton, Ont.; A.W.I. Pearl at Charlottetown, P.E.I.; Emma at Rockville and son Carl in the U.S. army in Oklahoma.

Here's a grand program for listening pleasure, the new streamlined version of "Comrades in Arms", a weekly report of the Army, Navy and Air Forces comes over the CBC national networks each Sunday at 5:30 p.m. E.D.T.

Our Canadian army fills cavities with Germans and Italians in Sicily, but it is interesting to know that when any of the lads in the front line trouble they sure could get it fixed pronto, because the Canadian Dental Corps was right up front with them on dental work. And on an army truck chassis, insulated against heat and cold, and even with facilities for purifying water in special tanks. That's service de luxe, not half as tough as finding a dentist ready to work on you right in Canada.

They have been saying lots of nice things about Wing Commander Robert S. Turnbull, D.F.C., of Govan, Sask., for his fine work with a four-engine bomber in the Duxbury-directed blitz overseas. Twenty-four years of age he was a flight sergeant on November 20, 1941, a wing commander in November, 1942. One of his ground crew personnel is a Barrer, Ont. lad, Corporal M. J. Prince.

Looks like saturation for awhile with the closing of three officers' training camps at Chilliwack, B.C., Three Rivers, Quebec, and Gordon Head, B.C. In future, officer ranks will be filled mainly from ranks with overseas experience.

Some 17,000 young officers have been trained for service here.

Folk around Inglewood, Ont., should be proud of Flying Officer Ian Simpson, navigator of a big bomber which got into difficulties in a heavily defended area. Four of the crew were ordered to bale out and a full load of bombs had to be abandoned. With F.L. T. T. Marsh, of Toronto, they got the machine back safely to a home base after getting rid of the bombs on a practice area.

The Reserve Army gets a variety of persons, and they could give a good account of themselves if the emergency arose. For instance, at the camp with was always in Ontario by the 31st Field Regiment (Res.) R.C.A., two of the gunners were Tom Buck (not Tim), who was campaign expert for the C.C.F. at Guelph, and none other than Mayor Courtney of Hespeler.

The widespread ramifications of the diversified extent of the Canadian army shows up in pursuing casualty lists, even though that isn't a pleasant thing, but we have to be realistic about things. I was looking at the official release of the 1931 casualty list of the Sicilian campaign and among the casualties I found names from such scattered places as Prince Rupert, B.C.; Wolfville, N.S.; South Bay, Ontario; Sands, Lancashire, England; Consort, Alberta; Nairn, Inverness, Scotland; Graxettes, Barbados; British West Indies; Prince Albert, Saskatchewan; Canadians all.

Nip Plan To Blow Up Ammunition Tunnel

A Gibraltar dispatch to The London Daily Mail said that authorities had uncovered a plan to blow up an ammunition tunnel at the Gibraltar dockyards.

The attorney-general referred to the plan, it was said, while prosecuting a Spanish Luis Lopez-Cordon Cuenca, on a charge of intending to assist the enemy and having a bomb for the purpose of sabotage.

Cuenca's arrest was said by the attorney-general to have averted a disaster of the first magnitude. He was accused of delivering a German-made bomb to a house in Gibraltar. He faces life imprisonment.

A Better World

A Lasting Peace Must Subordinate Self For The Common Good

A reminder has come from one of our religious leaders of the importance of "combined operations" in planning the world after the war.

He explained that this should consist of close collaboration between statesmen, scientists and economists and the vast army of workers and the Christian leaders of our land.

This is a happy simile, signifying as it does a vigorous attack, leading to a scaling of the heights. For it is no exaggeration to assert that we shall never win a lasting peace without the lofty idealism which subordinates self to achieve the common good.

In this campaign parents can play a vitally important part by honouring their obligations and privileges. And, as this leader insists, let their guidance consist of a positive, joyous teaching rather than a series of grim prohibitions.

FOOD BUDGET

These days we should have a budget for our food as well as our other living expenses.

You will find it to your advantage to plan at least three meals at a time. Then compare your menus from day to day and if there is any food left, try to work it into the next day's meal.

After you have done your planning wisely you should buy carefully. Study the prices of food, both staples and seasonal ones. If it is possible you will find it cheaper to shop at cash-and-carry stores. They can charge less as their overhead cost is less due to non-delivery and small staff.

When buying seasonal foods—fruits and vegetables, try comparing daily prices, often you can save a few cents by just looking before buying. If you want to keep your food costs low, buy foods in season and when they are plentiful. Examine the vegetables to see if they are fresh and crisp, as they lose most of their vitamin value and flavor on standing. In that way you will get the most quality and quantity for your money.

If you buy the less expensive cuts of meat you can make steaks, hash or pot roast for a change. There are many delicious recipes for cooking the cheaper cuts. Organ meats such as liver, kidney, heart, sweetbreads are the best meats you can buy if you want to get the most in food value for your money.

You should read the label on canned goods—the weight, quality and size of the products are given.

You will find it less expensive in the long run to buy large quantities of foods. Also food purchased in bulk is less expensive than that in packages. Cereals, sugar, salt, macaroni, dried fruits are food you should buy this way.

To obtain the most food value when buying bread and cereals you should buy whole grain products. They are a good source of the Vitamin B complex, some minerals and have a higher protein content. Refined cereal products on the whole have very little food value other than carbohydrates. Even though the initial price of the refined cereals and bread may be less, you will be receiving less food value for your money.

You might find it easier when buying foods to divide your food money into five parts using 1/5 for each of these groups: (1) meat, fish, eggs, poultry (2) fruit and vegetables (3) whole wheat bread and cereals (4) milk, butter, cheese (5) staples, tea, coffee, salt, flour, etc.

War Production Costs Reaching Large Figures

OTTAWA.—Expenditures on war construction and production in Canada since Sept. 9, 1939, total $8,500,000—approximately $600 for every man, woman and child in the Dominion, the munitions department announced.

As Canada enters her fifth year of war, the record shows more than $720,000,000 in new factories, machinery and land sites, financed by the government to speed the output of munitions. This cost would average approximately $65 for every person in Canada.

The completed munitions themselves have cost the people of Canada nearly $5,000,000,000, or about $455 out of every $600 spent by the department. War goods not produced in Canada but purchased from abroad account for approximately $25 of every $600 spent, or a total of $250,000,000.

To help house workers engaged in essential industries more than $85,000,000 has been invested in prefabricated houses, a sum representing an estimated $5 out of every $600.

In the construction of defence projects, such as airports more than $515,000,000 was expended, about $50 out of every $600.

From every $100 invested in the construction of new plants and equipment, $15 was allotted to the ammunition industry, $13 to the chemicals and explosive industry, $17.50 to the gun industry, $1 to the machine tools and gauges industry, $4 to the automotive industry, $20 to industries producing raw materials, $1.50 to the signals and instruments industry, $10 to the aircraft industry, $4.50 to shipbuilding and repairs, and $8.50 to housing.

Canadian war production has reached a peak of $95,000,000 worth of munitions a week as the Dominion enters its fifth year of war, Munitions Minister Howe said in a statement.

Reviewing the war production program, Mr. Howe made public new figures placing at $3,084,000,000 expenditures in the year ended Sept. 1, 1943, on war production and construction, exclusive of food, metals, timber and other materials produced for war purposes but not under munitions department contracts.

Persons directly or indirectly employed in war work at that date were estimated at 1,100,000 and summaries of the production of specific war materials showed new highs.

"More than $800,000,000 has been spent on hundreds of new plants and thousands of new machines. Since peacetime industries have expanded to two, five and even ten times their former size," the statement said.

"By the end of this year Canada will have launched approximately 750 ships and delivered more than 10,000 aircraft," Mr. Howe said. "Military vehicle production will have passed the 600,000 mark and armoured fighting vehicle output the 35,000 level."

"The nation will have turned out nearly 100,000 guns, barrels and mountings as well as 1,000,000 small arms."

"It will have manufactured more than 1,000,000 tons of explosives and war chemicals; some 60,000,000 complete rounds of heavy ammunition and well in excess of 3,000,000,000 rounds of small arms ammunition. The total dollar value of the instruments and communications material output will be nearly $300,000,000."

A BIG CONTRACT

Japanese Resolved To Crush America And Britain

NEW YORK.—The Tokyo radio, in a broadcast recorded by United States government monitors, told the Japanese people that Italy had surrendered unconditionally to the Allies and that the Japanese government "deems this most regretful."

Nevertheless Japan is resolved to crush America and Britain to the very end," thus putting Emperor Hirohito "at ease," the broadcast said.

United Nations Agree On Plans For World Peace

WASHINGTON.—Britain and the United States have reached a virtual agreement to maintain military collaboration and co-operation in the immediate post-war period, in order to block aggression and keep the peace, by force if necessary. It was learned from a high Allied source.

The combined chiefs of staff committee, the top-level military organization of the two countries, will be retained in the transition period that will come between the firing of the last shot and the signing of a comprehensive peace treaty. The military leaders of other United Nations probably will be added to the chiefs of staff committee to make it more representative and embracing.

This is the background, it was revealed, for Prime Minister Churchill's speech at Cambridge, Mass., in which he said "it would be a most foolish and imprudent act on the part of our two governments, or either of them, to break up this smooth running and immensely powerful machinery (of the combined chiefs of staff committee) the moment the war is over."

"For our own safety, as well as for the security of the rest of the world, we are bound to keep it working and in running order after the war, probably for a good many years."

Commenting on Mr. Churchill's words, a high Allied source said that too many people are under the impression that a peace conference and a peace treaty will follow immediately after the armistice. That, he said, is not being contemplated by those directing Allied military and political strategy.

It would be a good guess, he continued, that a period of transition, or a cooling-off period, will come between the firing of the last shot and the formal signing of a peace treaty. It will be a good thing for humanity in general if the peace can be written in temperate language.

During this transition period, he continued, it will be necessary to maintain peace by the victorious countries and the best medium would seem to be the retention of the combined chiefs-of-staff committee, watching the international situation as it develops, ready to apply force if necessary.

PLANS AIR SERVICE

British Shipping Company Will Place Proposal Before Shareholders

LONDON.—The first move by one of the big British shipping companies to supplement sea services with air lines after the war is expected to be taken at an extraordinary general meeting of the Cunard Steamship Company at Liverpool, Sept. 27.

Before shareholders will be placed a proposal that part of the company's postwar expenditure be switched to air transport. They will be asked to sanction an alteration in the company's memorandum of association to permit the building of transport airliners and airfields for passenger and freight services.

The proposed new terms indicate the company is preparing to run its own air services to all parts of the world independently and in conjunction with other air lines. It is also suggested the company should establish its own repair and maintenance depots and if necessary obtain shares in aircraft interests.

Australia's Prime Minister Thinks Pacific War Council Good Pattern

SYDNEY, Australia.—Prime Minister Curtin has elaborated on his suggestion that some sort of permanent imperial consultative body be formed for the management of the common economic and political interests of Britain and the Dominions.

He now has made it plain that he contemplates a council with a structure similar to that of the present Pacific war council, on which Britain and the Dominions could consult regularly.

RATIONING RULES

Prices Board Has Issued New Order For Book Holders

OTTAWA.—Provision for the holder of a ration book to leave his book, card or a sheet from the book with his retailer is contained in a consolidated order covering rationing rules, issued by the prices board.

The order provides that the book, card or sheet left with the retailer must include the stub signed by the consumer. Every time a sale is made to the consumer, the retailer must detach enough coupons to cover the quantity delivered.

It was learned this provision applies to cash as well as to charge-account customers. It applies to many housewives who deal steadily with the same retailer, in addition to those who order by telephone from one retailer and do not wish to take in ration books every time they intend to purchase rationed goods.

Italy Occupation Culmination Of Considered Plan

WASHINGTON.—Prime Minister Winston Churchill and President Roosevelt, partners in the planning of Anglo-American military strategy, received the news they had been expecting and waiting for—the news that the Axis had been split asunder with the capitulation of Italian armed forces.

The news, tersely flashed to the world from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's North African headquarters, represented the culmination of brilliant military operations conceived in consultation with their staffs, by Churchill and Roosevelt in conferences begun here in December, 1941, and climaxed—as far as the Mediterranean theatre was concerned—in the historic meeting at Casablanca early this year.

That Italian unconditional surrender was imminent was surmised here because of Churchill's prolonged stay in the United States after conclusion of the Quebec conferences last month.

It appeared probable that the prime minister and president had laid down the general terms of Italian capitulation—terms consonant with the "unconditional surrender" formula announced at Casablanca—but had left him with a relatively free hand to deal with Italian offers.

Almost the first speculation after the news arrived here was that other of Germany's satellite states would follow Italy in surrendering, possibly in the near future. The example of Italy, for example, might encourage Finland to make a separate peace with Soviet Russia, some sources believed.

In any event, Italy's disaster is bound to be received with great joy in the various conquered countries of Europe.

At the war department the news, packed with portents as the most tremendous single break in the Axis war front to date, was received with official silence.

Canada Plans To Ship Huge Flour Order To Britain

OTTAWA.—Canada has started a determined effort to provide the United Kingdom with about 1,000,000 tons of flour—an order twice as large as that announced as having been granted to Australia, Trade Minister MacKinnon said.

He told The Canadian Press that Canada now is "working on" the order, to supply the flour to Britain as speedily as possible. Every effort is being made to increase production of Canadian flour mills to meet the unusually heavy demand.

It appeared Britain is building up large stocks of flour, and some authorities speculated that these supplies will be held available for use in feeding the liberated countries of Europe as the war proceeds.

A part of the British flour purchase probably will be covered by the $1,000,000,000 "mutual aid" bill approved by the Canadian parliament at its last session.

Officials said arrangements have been made under which, effective Sept. 1, British purchases of Canadian wheat will be paid for in Canadian dollars. This means Canadian offers of wheat will be quoted in Canadian dollars instead of in sterling as in the past, and the price will be on the dollar basis.

This step makes it possible to handle part of British wheat and flour purchases under the mutual aid plan, since the amount voted for this purpose by parliament is in dollars.

Authorities said there can be no estimate what portion of the wheat or wheat-flour shipments will represent mutual aid from Canada, since the amounts will be determined from time to time by the mutual aid board.

There was no indication of the price to be paid for the flour, but it was assumed by informed sources it will be no less than a rate based on the Canadian wheat board price for No. 1 Northern wheat at Port William—90 cents a bushel.

Some officials said it appears probable Canadian wheat or wheat flour soon will find its way into Italy, where the people have been on short bread rations for almost two years. Following the Italian capitulation it was expected food supplies would follow the United Nations' armies entering Italian territory.

Negotiations for the provision of 1,000,000 tons of flour from Canada were completed between the British and Canadian governments, Mr. MacKinnon said.

President Of U.S. Chamber Of Commerce Praises Britain's War Effort

SPOKANE, Wash.—High praise for the people of England was voiced by E. A. Johnston, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, who said he was "tremendously impressed" by their war effort.

Recently returned from a trip to England, Johnston said in an interview that England, famous known for high-grade, hand-made goods, "is mastering the art of mass production."

"The part women are playing in this achievement cannot be over-emphasized," he added. "Some factories have as high as 92 per cent women on their pay rolls. . . Their cheerfulness and their spirit is laudable."

CAUSED DAMAGE

Army Manoeuvres In England Have Cost Country Over $12,000,000

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND.—Damages amounting to approximately $17,500 were caused by Canadian and British troops in large-scale army exercises last spring.

A white paper published by the British government committee on national expenditure said that in view of the large area of agricultural land "under free manoeuvre" by formation troops and tanks, damage was kept "on the whole within reasonable limits."

Since November, 1940, the war office claims commission dealt with 419,706 cases and more than $12,000,000 were paid to claimants. The report did not say what proportion was the responsibility of Canadians.

PREPARING FILMS

LONDON.—A score of British films now are being prepared for a screen invasion of the continent immediately it is freed. It is being argued in Britain that German or German-influenced pictures will not then be popular and that British films will take their place.

WAR... COAL WILL BE SCARCE NEXT WINTER !!!

Prepare your home now for adequate warmth with smaller fuel consumption

TO SAVE COAL CHECK THESE POINTS

HOW TO GET MORE HEAT

Pipes and furnaces must be clean, and grates in good order. If one or two rooms are hard to heat, you are wasting fuel. A minor adjustment can probably remedy this. Have a competent man check your heating system, and make necessary repairs. Insulate your furnace and pipes when necessary.

HOW TO AVOID HEAT LOSSES

Storm windows and doors must fit snugly and be weatherstripped. Lack of storm windows can cause as much as 20% heat loss. Caulking should be done around windows, doors and in cracks in brick work (some hardware stores have caulking guns for rent). Broken glass should be replaced, and loose panes puttied. Small expenditures on such work will save much fuel.

HOW TO SAVE STILL MORE

You can save fuel and money by having your home properly insulated. It is a proven fact that in many homes lack of adequate insulation (including storm windows) results in unnecessary consumption of fuel—up to as much as 50%. Watch for later instructions on how to fire your furnace properly.

HAVE YOUR HOME INSPECTED FOR HEATING AND INSULATION DEFECTS

Get advice now! Skilled workmen and supplies are scarce. If you delay in getting your home ready for winter you may not be able to get the services you need.

Warships Replaced

Royal Navy Now Has Five New Ones In Service

The Ottawa Citizen says the five battleships lost by the Royal Navy during the war have been replaced by mighty 35,000-ton battleships. Though over 80 destroyers have been lost in action, more than double this number have been built to replace them. When the war began, Britain had six aircraft carriers. After three years of war, only H.M.S. Furious survived; but when the American troops landed in North Africa, there were several Royal Navy carriers present.

British Aircraft Production Increases By Forty-Four Per Cent.

Capt. Oliver Lyttelton, Minister of Production, reported that British aircraft production in terms of structural weight for the second quarter of 1943 increased 44 per cent. over the same period a year ago. The total output for all munitions increased 25 per cent. for the same period.

In a statement on progress in a program of changes in British war production begun January 1, 1943, with a view of concentrating on selected equipment calculated to bring a maximum impact on the enemy, the Production Minister declared the combined war output of the United Nations was at present three times that of the Axis and will be four times as great next year.

"A particularly satisfactory feature is that our actual production during the first six months of the year has equalled planned production," Lyttelton added.

Britain is planning further expansion of aircraft production in the next 12 months.

Planning Necessary

To Deal With Conditions After The End Of The War

One of the reasons why after winning the last war we lost all its fruits, was that during the war itself there wasn't sufficient general discussion or forming of public opinion as to what should happen after. We all thought rather vaguely of going back to the good old days. This time we all know we can't go back to the old days because they weren't good enough, with their mass unemployment and economic wars and breeding of new military wars. We must go forward to something better than the old days—Sir William H. Beveridge: The Pillars of Society.

Camouflage Pooled Overbearing Officer In Style Of His Critics

Bennett Cerf, in the Saturday Review of Literature, says:

The rarest tale of poetic justice comes from dusty Texas, where an erstwhile New Yorker cartoonist is laboring in a camouflage unit. A loud-mouthed and overbearing officer drove up one day last week and bawled the daylight out of the entire company. Their efforts, he informed them, wouldn't beatify a Jap with one eye missing entirely and the other closed by a cataract.

"Take down this claptrap," he belated, "and start all over again." The officer then climbed into his jeep, and drove smack into the camouflaged headquarters hut.

Hitler's Synagogue

Name Given To Church In Dublin Built By Quakers

Two years ago a couple of German planes got lost and bombed Dublin under the impression that it was an enemy target. Several buildings were damaged including a Jewish Synagogue.

Dr. Valera protested to Berlin. Hitler apologized and said he would pay for the damage in full.

A complete new Jewish Synagogue was built with the German money. In Dublin it is known as Hitler's synagogue.—London Calling, in Financial Post.
